Anti-Communists Say Goulart Has Fled from Brazil

RIO DE JANEIRO, Brazil (AP)—Victorious army leaders of Brazil's anti-Communist revolution said deposed President Joao Goulart fled into Argentina today, but Argentine border officials said they had not seen the ousted leftist.

An army spokesman said early today Goulart had left his ranch at Sao Borja, on the Argentine border, bound by car for Buenos Aires and "already in Argentine territory." Goulart was reported accompanied by his family and Gen. Assis Brasil, chief of his personal military staff.

Authorities in Argentine border provinces said, however, Goulart had not entered the country and that border patrols were alerted for any clandestine crossing. Airport control towers in Paraguay and Uruguay also were watching for him.

The military leaders of the swift, almost bloodless revolution, who charged that Goulart's leftist policies were leading Brazil into communism, sent six army officers to Sao Borja to arrest him if he remained at his ranch.

Goulart, abandoning his vow to fight to the death, vanished Thursday after flying out of Porto Alegre, his last redoubt in Brazil's deep south. Informants said he gave up to prevent the bloodshed of a futile resistance.

The deposed president had fled to the southern seaport, capital of his home state of Rio Grande do Sul, earlier in the day from Rio de Janeiro. Army troops were converging on Rio then in the last stages of the two-day revolution in which only two deaths were reported.

In Brasilia, the inland capital, new President Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli, president of the Chamber of Deputies, was sworn in as Goulart's constitutional successor by Congress Thursday after Senate President Auro Andrade declared the presidency vacant.

Mazzilli, 54, a conservative politician, immediately set about forming a government to try to cope with Brazil's staggering budget deficit, rampant inflation, labor unrest and the need for profound social reform, especially land redistribution.

President Johnson sent Mazzilli his "warmest good wishes" and expressed admiration for the way Brazilians settled their difficulties "within the framework of constitutional democracy and without civil strife."

The world Communist press denounced Goulart's overthrow as a plot hatched in the United States.

The downfall of Goulart's Communist-influenced government sent more than a million persons pouring into Rio de Janeiro's main streets Thursday night for a tumultuous celebration.

Army leaders who launched the revolt north of Rio Tuesday night said the situation throughout the country was calm.

Civil Rights Debate Turns To Schools

WASHINGTON (AP)—Senators leading the fight for the House-passed civil rights bill take up the school desegregation section today amid signs of growing absenteeism in their ranks.

Sens. Paul H. Douglas, D-Ill., and John Sherman Cooper, R-Ky., were assigned to spell out the arguments for this part of the measure in behalf of the bipartisan coalition arrayed against Southern opponents.

Another key part of their strategy is to keep the debate moving by having enough senators around to produce quickly a quorum—a majority of the 100 members.

But Thursday, Sens. Hubert H. Humphrey, D-Minn., and Thomas H. Kuchel, R-Calif., leaders of the coalition, were away. And it took 53 minutes to round up one quorum, 43 minutes to produce another.

Douglas, in his prepared remarks, upheld authority that would be conferred on the attorney general to initiate school desegregation suits if he finds individual citizens are unable to act in their own behalf.

He said this part of the bill is essential because "only one per cent of the Negro school children in the states of the Old Confederacy are now in desegregated schools" 10 years after the Supreme Court's ruling that racially segregated public schools are unconstitutional.

One-Time Teacher Heads Insurance Firm

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—A one-time Monroe County, W. Va., school teacher, who began selling insurance on a part-time basis 32 years ago, today holds the title of president and general manager of the multi-million-dollar Nationwide Insurance Companies.

He is Bowman Doss, 56, the senior vice president who succeeded Murray D. Lincoln at his retirement Thursday. Lincoln continues on the board of directors of the four Nationwide companies.

REBELS TAKE POST — Followers of Carlos Lacerda, anti-Red governor of Guanabara state, carry guns and flags after defeating units supporting ousted Brazilian President Joao Goulart. The rebels took over the governor's Rio mansion.

Alaska Governor Pushes $50 Million Bond Issue

ANCHORAGE, Alaska (AP)—Gov. William A. Egan flies to Juneau today to urge a joint session of the Legislature to approve a $50-million emergency bond issue to help earthquake-torn Alaskan cities.

The amount is only a tenth of the estimated loss but, says Egan, it will show Alaska is willing to do everything possible to pull itself up by its bootstraps.

President Johnson urged Congress to approve $50 million in emergency funds quickly and in Seattle, Sen. Henry M. Jackson D-Wash., predicted eventual congressional approval of up to $200 million.

Johnson, attending a meeting of 500 state and federal officials and Seattle businessmen, proposed a government-sponsored retroactive disaster insurance plan. He said the precedent of retroactive insurance was established during World War II when the government offered war-risk insurance to persons suffering property losses.

Alaska Sen. E.L. Bartlett told the meeting his state has an assessed valuation of $815 million and damage, in terms of replacement costs, would amount to about $550 million.

While others talked of money for the vast rehabilitation tasks, Alaskans continued doing the little jobs that bring order out of chaos. Homes, shaken but liveable, were strengthened and it was back to school for youngsters in many places.

The weather turned cold and snow began to fall. But it could not cover the ugly piles of rubble in the center of this beautiful city, Alaska's largest.

Visits to JFK Grave Mount

WASHINGTON (AP)—The steady pilgrimage to the Arlington National Cemetery graveside of President John F. Kennedy is increasing.

"It is more than we could possibly conceive," Cemetery Superintendent John Metzler said Thursday.

On Easter Sunday, Metzler said persons wishing to file past the Kennedy grave—marked by its eternal flame—had to wait up to 1½ hours.

Plans for a statue of Kennedy to be built in the Chamizal area of Mexico near the U.S. border at El Paso, Tex., were announced Thursday by the Mexican government.

Under a treaty negotiated by Kennedy and Mexico President Adolfo Lopez Mateos, Mexico is recovering the small piece of land, thus ending a century-long dispute.

ful city, Alaska's largest.

Heat and power have been restored to most of the city and telephone service is back to normal. It is being overtaxed, however, by anxious relatives and friends.

Although a week has passed, the total number of casualties is not known, and may not be for some time yet. Civil Defense officials place the figure at 125 dead and missing.

There was no food shortage here, but 60,000 pounds was airlifted to Kenai, Soldotna and Homer in the hard-hit area on the peninsula south of here. Another 3,500 pounds was flown to Seward.

Military planes flew almost continuously between here and Seattle bringing in more supplies.

After shocks, normal following a major earthquake, continued and the U.S. Coast and Geodetic Survey's seismology station at Sitka reported one Thursday that registered 6.5 on the Richter scale. Last Friday's quake registered as high as 8.6, one of the worst ever recorded.

U.S. Policy On NATO To Be Detailed

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson will outline current American attitudes toward the 15-year-old North Atlantic Treaty Organization at a special White House ceremony late today.

The importance attached to Johnson's address by administration officials apparently was indicated by the fact that television and radio networks were invited to make live broadcasts of the event in the East Room of the executive mansion.

The address is scheduled for 5 p.m. Eastern Standard Time. The ceremony comes on the eve of the 15th anniversary of the treaty-signing that created NATO.

The United States remains a strong believer in NATO as a deterrent to possible Communist aggression in Europe.

However, French President Charles de Gaulle has been cold toward NATO ever since other members spurned his suggestion that France, Britain, and the United States set up a three-nation directorate to lead the organization.

Red Bloc Showdown Is Sought by Soviet

U.S. Studies Exploitation Of Soviet - Chinese Split

NEW YORK (AP)—The Kremlin virtually read the Chinese out of the world Communist movement today, forecasting an era which brings new opportunities and new dangers for the United States and its friends.

How to exploit what appears to be an unbridgeable chasm between Moscow and Peking was a major concern of the White House and State Department long before the Soviet Communist party issued its showdown challenge. Now it has become a vital concern.

To most diplomats, it long has seemed inevitable that a definitive break with China would mean the Soviet Union would have to work to improve relations with the West.

Not only does such a break mean the return to the relative ly small "socialist camp" of the late 1940's, it also means the Soviet Union must guard the world's longest border against an openly hostile China.

In addition to the United States, firmly opposing Communist expansion to the West, there is now also Communist China, firmly opposing Soviet policy in the East.

Premier Khrushchev must be thanking his lucky stars he resisted all pressures to help China build an atomic bomb.

With its limited resources, faltering agriculture, and pledges to fight imperialism with improved living standards for its people, the Soviet Union will find such a situation an almost unbearable strain unless there is relaxation somewhere.

It could come in Berlin, Cuba or any point where Moscow and the West are in conflict.

The other side of the coin is just as important, however. The Soviets, and Khrushchev in particular, cannot afford to follow a policy which might appear to prove the Chinese charge that Khrushchev is "the greatest capitulationist of all time" and a stooge of the United States.

The late President John F. Kennedy understood this well, and there is no reason to think President Johnson does not.

Khrushchev put an optimistic face on things to the last. Even in the call for a world Communist showdown meeting, his spokesman said the Soviet Union was still willing to work for reconciliation.

The possibility remains that pressure from other Communist parties during the proposed meeting might bring the Chinese black sheep back into the Communist fold. It seems much more probable, however, that they will continue to scorn any shepherding from Moscow.

In this case, another almost inevitable result would be a sharpening in their struggle for influence in southern Asia, Africa and Latin America.

A good place to watch for this is Zanzibar, where the Soviet Union and China are already eyeball to eyeball and it's a question of who'll wink first.

State Bond Issue Hearing Is Scheduled

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—The Ohio Supreme Court has scheduled a hearing for April 29 on a suit challenging financing provisions of the $250 million capital improvements bond issue.

The suit by Paul J. Lynch, a Columbus high school teacher, has blocked plans for construction at state universities and elsewhere.

Efforts by Gov. James A. Rhodes at conciliation have been unavailing although Theodore Saker, counsel for Lynch, indicated the suit would be made with Cleveland and Columbus bond counsel firms for court strategy if the suit is not withdrawn or dismissed.

Atty. Gen. William Saxbe has until April 18 to file a motion for dismissal. Lynch would have until April 21 to answer and Saxbe then could reply by April 27 before the hearing date for arguments.

Lynch contended the last legislature improperly delegated legislative authority for increasing Ohio's cigarette tax if present revenues were insufficient to retire bonds.

Man and Dog In Doghouse

LOS ANGELES (AP)—When Daniel M. Jacobs went to court on a charge of speeding 90 miles an hour, he took along his only defense witness — his dog. Both are now in the doghouse.

The judge refused to allow Otto Von Bismarck I, a Doberman pinscher, to enter the courtroom. Jacobs, 25, promptly hung a portrait of the 9-month-old pet on a hatrack and then stated his case to the jury.

"I wouldn't drive that fast because I wouldn't endanger my dog's life," he said in the car with me," he said. "He's too valuable to risk driving at such a speed."

The jury convicted Jacobs. He got five days for speeding and five days for contempt, arising from his remarks concerning the dog's treatment.

Otto, faithfully waiting in the hall, was sent to an animal shelter.

3 Tots, Grandma Die in Home Fire

RUSSELLVILLE, Ohio (AP)—Three children and their 64-year-old grandmother were killed late Thursday night in a fire in their one-story frame home in this Brown County village.

The victims, who were found in their beds, were identified as Grace Perkins, 64, Elizabeth Ann Perkins, 2½, John Philip Perkins, 1½, and Betty Perkins, 6 months.

The children's father, Roy Perkins, 38, suffered burns but his condition was not available. Firemen found him struggling near the front door.

The mother, Virginia, 21, escaped uninjured.

Pravda Rips Into Peking

Sniping at Khrushchev Brings Broadside

MOSCOW (AP)—The Soviet Union finally lashed back at Red China today, calling for a showdown meeting of the world's Communist parties to thrash out communism's big feud.

Breaking a six-month silence, the Kremlin accused the Chinese of trying to run the Red bloc, to stir political unrest in the Soviet Union, to sabotage Premier Khrushchev's policy of peaceful coexistence and to obtain nuclear weapons at any cost.

The Soviet reply occupied nearly an entire edition of the Communist Party newspaper Pravda. In a front-page editorial, Pravda called Mao Tse-tung's regime "the main danger to the unity of the world Communist movement."

Pravda said the final straw was Tuesday when Peking called Khrushchev "the greatest capitulationist in history" and demanded that Communists in and out of the Soviet Union repudiate his policies.

The party organ called the attack a "terrible insult to our party and the entire Soviet people."

"It showed conclusively that the leaders of the Communist party of China have passed all limits in their political struggle against the world Communist movement," the editorial continued, "and have chosen the Communist party of the Soviet Union as their target."

Downed U.S. Fliers Face Pilot Tests

WASHINGTON (AP)—The pilot and navigator of the RB66 reconnaissance bomber which strayed into Communist East Germany last month will go before an Air Force board which will determine whether they are qualified to continue flying.

The Air Force announced this today in saying that a fact-finding inquiry panel had found that a "gross navigational error resulting from erroneous indications" on a navigational compass caused the crew of the RB66 to believe they were on the right course "when actually they were not."

"However, the board reported that additional factors in the plane being off course appeared to be a lack of complete crew coordination and failure to cross-check the plane's position by other navigational means available," the announcement said.

Capt. David I. Holland, 35, of Holland, Mich., was the pilot of the RB66 and Capt. Melvin J. Kessler, 30, of Philadelphia, was the navigator.

Now in Wiesbaden, Germany, they will be returned to Tuller's Air Base in France to go before the flying evaluation board.

Prominent Protestant Leader Dies at 84

NEW YORK (AP)—The Rev. Dr. John Haynes Holmes, 84, a leading Protestant civic leader and author of books on sociology and religion, died today in his home.

Dr. Holmes, minister emeritus of the Community Church of New York, had been ailing for several years but had been at the church last Sunday.

Ohio Housewife Heads Eastward on Flight

CAIRO (AP)—Geraldine Mock of Columbus, Ohio, left today for Dhahran, Saudi Arabia, continuing her solo flight around the world in a single-engine plane.

Also on a round the world flight, Joan Merriam of Long Beach, Calif., hoped to leave Natal, Brazil, today for the 1,800-mile flight to Dakar, on the western bulge of Africa.

Johnson Hails Brazil Chief

'Good Wishes' Sent to Mazzilli

WASHINGTON (AP)—President Johnson has sent his "warmest good wishes" to the new president of Brazil and described as constitutional his ascent to power.

Johnson accepted without question the legitimacy of Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli's installation as head of the Brazilian government although a military coup ousted his predecessor, Joao Goulart.

The Johnson message had the effect of clearly establishing U.S. recognition of the new regime less than 24 hours after Mazzilli took office.

With the ouster of the Goulart government, U.S. officials see an opportunity for improved relations with the South American country. There was no mention in the brief presidential message of Goulart, who was deposed by the military because of his leftist leanings.

"The American people have watched with anxiety the political and economic difficulties through which your great nation has been passing and have admired the resolute will of the Brazilian community to resolve these difficulties within the framework of constitutional democracy and without civil strife," Johnson told Mazzilli, who moved up from the presidency of the Brazilian Chamber of Deputies.

South America's biggest country faces enormous problems of reorganization and reform, and Washington experts say many difficulties lie ahead for the new regime.

The Johnson administration is reported ready to assist with these problems in any way it can. The United States has put hundreds of millions of dollars into Brazil through loans and grants in recent years. But what actually can be done now will depend on how quickly the country settles down after the political revolution and what assistance it seeks for new programs of action.

Glued Half Dollars Make Cartwheels

BOZEMAN, Mont. (AP)—The nation's silver dollar shortage produced a substitute here—two half dollars glued together.

Merchants started dispensing glued halves Thursday when they ran out of cartwheels. In Montana, paper dollars are held in disrepute.

"The customers want silver dollars in change so we're giving silver dollars," Larry Restvedt, operator of a meat market, said.

"I just got another $100 worth of half dollars," Restvedt said. "I'm going to glue them together tonight."

Solon, 67, Deplores Older Solons

WASHINGTON (AP)—A first-term congressman who thinks there are too many old men running things in the House wants members barred from seeking re-election after 70.

"A lot of these old men are in their dotage," said Rep. Everett G. Burkhalter, D-Calif., Thursday. "They're living in the last century."

Burkhalter, at 67, is no pink-cheeked freshman. He had planned to cap a 20-year career in California public life with about three terms in Congress, but has become so discouraged at bucking the rigid seniority system he is retiring after this session.

"I could see I wasn't going to get any place," he told an interviewer. "Nobody listens to what you have to say until you've been here 10 or 12 years. These old men have got everything so tied down you can't do anything."

Burkhalter said he never realized how few people ran Congress until he moved in as a freshman in 1962.

"There are only about 40 out of the 435 members who call the shots," he said. "They're the committee chairmen and the ranking members and they're all around 70 or 80."

Before he leaves he plans to introduce a bill that would lengthen the term of representatives from two years to four, limit them to four terms and bar them from seeking election after reaching 70.

With the House taking a spring recess, Burkhalter's blast echoed down largely silent corridors, but two of the "old men" he had in mind leaped mimbly into the fray.

Rep. Clarence Cannon, D-Mo., 76, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, turned to Henry Wadsworth Longfellow for his ammunition.

Quoting from the poet's Moriturus Salutamus, he said:

"Ah, nothing is late until the tired heart shall cease to palpitate."

Instead of brawn and vigor, they'll keep him in," he said. Cannon added that Burkhalter's proposal for an age limit on re-election would require a constitutional amendment inasmuch as the Constitution leaves the setting of such standards to the states.

Rep. Emanuel Celler, D-N.Y., 76, chairman of the House Judiciary Committee, turned to Henry Wadsworth Longfellow for his ammunition.

Quoting from the poet's Moriturus Salutamus, he said:

"Ah, nothing is late until the tired heart shall cease to palpitate."

Hearings Open On Juvenile Charges Here

A series of hearings got underway today in Pickaway County Juvenile Court regarding a recent investigation by city police of promiscuous activities at a N. Court St. apartment.

Three juvenile girls each were placed on probation for three years by Judge Guy Cline. The hearings were conducted in the judge's chambers.

The girls, ages, 14, 15 and 16, gave testimony concerning activities that allegedly took place in the apartment that was occupied by a young married couple. Names of at least five adults were mentioned in a composite of testimony given by teen-agers who had frequented the apartment.

More hearings have been scheduled for next week. Judge Cline said both juveniles and adults allegedly connected with the case will be brought before the bench.

Giving testimony at the hearings are City Patrolmen Wesley Barton and Larry Pontious.

2 Motorists Slightly Hurt

Two area motorists were treated for minor injuries suffered in a two-car accident yesterday on the Circleville - Stoutsville Road just east of the City.

Taken to Berger Hospital for treatment were Paul W. Hamilton, 28, Route 4, and Kenneth O. Brown, 21, of 459 E. Ohio St. Both were released.

Officers said the accident came when Brown attempted to pass a car. Hamilton was approaching from the opposite direction. Brown swerved left, but could not avoid a collision they said.

Brown was cited by the State Highway Patrol for passing without assured cleared distance ahead. His car was extensively damaged.

Hamilton's auto sustained only moderate damage, according to the investigating officer.

The leader was reported in fair condition at St. Mark's Hospital. His son said he was being treated for high blood pressure, kidney trouble and other ailments.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Undersecretary of State George Ball said today the U.S.-sponsored economic boycott of Cuba is not expected to bring down the Castro regime but will make clear that "communism has no future in the Western Hemisphere."

The danger of Castro's Cuba, Ball said, is that it represents "a focus for Communist infection for the whole of Latin America."

Ball said the Cuban economy is running 20 per cent under the level of activity before Castro took over. He said this is important in showing the failure of communism to other Western Hemisphere countries. Furthermore, he said, the economic boycott has had the effect of raising "the level of costs" to the Soviet Union in supporting the Castro regime in power.

Pravda Rips

The remainder of the paper contained an anti-Chinese speech by Mikhail A. Suslov, the Soviet party's chief theoretician. The speech had been kept secret since Suslov delivered it to a meeting of the Soviet Communist party's central committee Feb. 14.

Accusing Red China of "nationalist arrogance" and "great power, egotistical interests," Suslov said: "There is no longer any doubt that Peking is steering a course toward a split among the Communist parties, toward the setting up of factions and groups hostile to Marxism-Leninism."

Suslov accused the Chinese of seeking to usurp the Kremlin's leadership of the world Communist movement and to bring political chaos within the Soviet Union as well.

Although Suslov's speech was laced with harsh language, he did not propose reading Peking out of the Communist movement, as Stalin had tried to do to Marshal Tito's Yugoslavia. Instead, Suslov proposed a meeting of the world's Communist parties "to discuss the basic problems of our time and to hold the broadest possible exchange of opinions in the interest of surmounting the difficulties that have arisen in the Communist movement."

The blast came while Khrushchev was visiting Hungary. The Soviet premier indicated public annoyance with his Chinese critics on Wednesday by saying Peking wanted to spread world revolution on an empty stomach.

"Isn't it better to have good gulash?" Khrushchev asked applauding Budapest factory workers.

Hungary's Communist party came to his support today, accusing the Chinese of "weakening the unity of Communist countries and helping imperialism against the socialist world."

Landmark Fades From Local Scene

AN ERA ENDS — Locking the doors for the last time today at the old Second National Bank on W. Main St. were Eugene Wilson (left), cashier, and Durward D. Dowden, president. Tomorrow morning, the bank officials will unlock doors at their new Second National building at 136 E. Main St. Opening of the new facilities marks the end of 116 years of banking business at the old W. Main St. establishment. Open house will be observed at the new building tonight. (Photo by Beaver Studio)

One of Circleville's landmarks, dating back to the early days of local history, gave way to progress at 2:30 p. m. today as the Second National Bank began its final move to new facilities at 136 E. Main St. The bank will be open for business tomorrow morning at the new location.

Durward D. Dowden, president and Eugene Wilson, cashier, locked the doors of the old bank building for the last time. Tomorrow will be the first time in the building's history that the doors will not open for banking business during the past 116 years.

Built by the Marfield family in 1848 as a building for their own private bank, it was later the home of the Exchange Bank. When the present Second National Bank, which was organized in 1863, acquired the Exchange Bank, the Second moved into the then new banking quarters. It remained in that location for approximately 100 years.

PRESIDENT Dowden, in his 42nd year with the local bank, stated that in 1963 when a decision was reached to erect a modern, adequate building for the convenience of the banking public of this trade area, it was the greatest year in the history of the firm. The East Main St. location provides space for all the bank's needs, including drive-in banking facilities and customer parking, he said.

Views on TV - Radio

By CYNTHIA LOWRY
AP Television-Radio Writer
NEW YORK (AP)—It was a spring, much like this one, four years ago when an almost unknown young actor named Vincent Edwards landed the title role of a new television series called "Ben Casey." Six months later he was a real star.

Seven years ago, the same experience befell a tall, husky fellow who, because of a slight resemblance to John Wayne, was cast as Marshal Matt Dillon of a new show called "Gunsmoke."

Right now, with most of next season's television programs and their casts chosen, there are many actors who are yet-to-be-born stars. One is David Hedison who has been picked as the romantic co - star with Richard Basehart in an action series on ABC called "Voyag to The Bottom of The Sea."

Tall, dark Hedison, 35, was picked three or four seasons back to play Cary Grantish master spy in an NBC series called "Five Fingers."

The series was deposited neatly into a time spot where it conflicted with what were then two of the most popular shows on the air, CBS' "Have "Gun, Will Travel" and "Gunsmoke." Poor old "Five Fingers" never had a chance. It was canceled by the sponsor after the fourth show and was removed after 14. NBC quietly substituted a public affairs show for the rest of the season.

Today, Hedison does not think the association with a failure hurt him as a potential star.

"But I sure want this one to be a success," he confessed. "I have a lot of enthusiasm for it—the scripts look pretty good and there will be a lot of variety in the story lines."

Recommended for Sunday: "Made in America," CBS, 9-9:30 Eastern Standard Time new game show with millionaire contestants; "Celebrity Game," CBS, 9:30-10—new panel show with Carl Reiner as host and nine celebrities on a rotating panel; "Jeremy Rabbit, The Secret Avenger," NBC, 10-11—comedy-drama with Jim Backus, Franchot Tone, Brian Donlevy and Frank Gorshin.

DAYTON, Ohio (AP)—Miami Valley Hospital is being sued for $100,000 for allegedly holding an attorney's 7-year - old daughter against her will. Dayton attorney David Bailie filed the suit Thursday in Common Pleas Court.

He said hospital officials refused to permit his daughter, Margaret, to leave until Mrs. Bailie signed a note for hospital fees. The child recently underwent an eye operation and was released Wednesday.

Anthrax Blamed for Man's Death

CINCINNATI (AP)— Authorities have ruled that Donald A. Hoffman, who was infected by imported goat hair, died of anthrax, an infectious disease humans get from animals.

Hoffman of suburban Forest Park apparently was infected while using the goat hair to insulate pipes on a hospital construction project at Oxford. He died March 6.

A bacteriologist, Dr. Evan Schmidt of Christ Hospital, reported his findings Thursday and said they were confirmed by the Ohio Health Department.

Federal authorities said they were trying to locate the source of the goat hair.

CHEVY II by Chevrolet

How to get away from it all including the high cost of travel!

If you're looking for a way to get the whole family there and back on a small vacation budget, this is the station wagon that can do it.

You see, a Chevy II is one of the most inexpensive wagons you can own. It goes so many miles between gas stops you'll think we built in a spare tank. Garage stops, too, are far, far apart.

And you get 76 cu. ft. of cargo space for less money than you'd expect to pay for most sedans. Big enough to handle fat rowboats and tall fishing poles. Powerful enough to tote fully loaded trailers.

And all Chevy II's come with Chevrolet's money-saving, easy-care features. Like Body by Fisher, rust-resisting flush-and-dry rocker panels, battery-saving Delcotron generator and self-adjusting brakes.

Besides wagons, of course, there are Chevy II sedans and coupes. The Super Sport Coupe comes with a wide range of engines, bucket seats, door-to-door carpeting and either an extra-cost floor-mounted Powerglide or 4-speed transmission. So although Chevy II's are economical to buy and own, they certainly don't look it.

And now that it's Trade 'N' Travel Time at your Chevrolet dealer's, you'll never find a better time to look into Chevy II. Look under its hood. Slam its solid doors. Bounce on its thickly padded foam-cushioned seats. But above all else—try it on the highway. It'll give you a good run for your money.

Goldwater for Veep?

There is an odd switch in the under-the-surface politicking of the Republicans: "moderates" who were pummeling Barry Goldwater just yesterday are now touting him — for Vice President. Some of them say the ticket will be Nixon-Goldwater; others that it will be Scranton-Goldwater.

On the face of it, this sort of punditry makes sense, for it is obvious that Goldwater will go to San Francisco with a hefty number of delegates who, in case they can't put their man over, will have to be pacified in order to hold the GOP together in November. But a little investigation among Goldwater supporters raises some questions about the soundness of the plan. Many of them would consider settling for second place an unbearable defeat.

The trouble with the "balanced ticket" type of thinking, they say, is that 1964 is not an ordinary year. Certainly the Goldwater supporters cannot be counted on to act as a group in an ordinary way. In practically every state the Goldwaters are divided into two major factions that have reached a purely temporary truce. Some of them are Republicans who happen to be for Barry. Others are conservatives who couldn't care less about the Republican Party if it should go for a liberal candidate. The psychology of 1964 takes one back to 1912, when large numbers of Republicans were for Teddy Roosevelt first and for the party only on condition that it dump William Howard Taft in favor of Bull Moose-ism.

This is not to say that Barry Goldwater, who is himself a Republican first and last, would follow T. R.'s example and take off into any Third Party wilderness. Indeed, as a good party man, he might conceivably be prevailed upon to run for the Vice Presidency provided he were satisfied with the platform and with the Republican choice for President. But Goldwater, though he is enormously popular as a man, yields most of his power because he is a symbol. The moment he ceases to identify himself with what he symbolizes, his support will tend to wither at the edges. The question is whether he could still remain a symbol as a "veep".

In most Presidential years political parties can afford to make their appeals as catchalls, with a little of this for the liberals, a little of that for the conservatives, and something else again in various proportions for the regions. In such years personal popularity will be decisive. Nobody knew what Eisenhower thought about a lot of things in 1952 — but he was popular, so no matter. The same was true of Kennedy in 1960.

The drive from the grassroots in 1964 as it affects Goldwater, however, is for a polarization of the parties. This is something that is outside the ken of the old-fashioned political pro. The pro prefers the type of voter that can be counted on to be in his pocket no matter what candidate he may have to settle for in the end. He may be for Goldwater, or he may be for Rockefeller, or for Lodge, but if he has to make a last-minute trade or accommodation, he likes to think he can carry his followers with him.

This year, however, the Republican pros can count on nothing. In my home state of Connecticut the Republican party stalwarts are currently caught up in a squabble for control between the Searle Pinney men and the Eddie May men. But the Goldwater Clubs in the state have no interest in the fight unless it can be shown that it has some bearing on their own interest, which is to spread Goldwater's philosophy. In New York the Conservative Party long ago served notice that it would not support a Republican liberal; in Ohio, Pennsylvania, and Colorado, where favorite sons have varying claims to delegate control, there are fervent believers in the Goldwater philosophy who would run a mile before voting to put Governor Rhodes or Governor Scranton or Senator Allott in the White House.

The pros may have their way this year at the conventions. But in November the amateurs will settle the issue. They will do it by voting or by not voting, as the choice seems indicated.

The Business World

NEW YORK (AP)—The food industry may be called on the carpet again to tell why the prices in the stores seem so high when compared to the prices on the farm.

President Johnson has asked Congress to make such a study. And most housewives will watch with interest.

They note government figures showing it takes $10.60 now to buy food they could get for $10 in 1957-59, or for $10.50 just a year ago. At the same time farmers, and especially cattlemen, complain of declining prices at the source of supply. The President wants to know if "the benefits of advanced technology are being fairly distributed among farmers, processors, distributors, retailers and consumers."

The food industry has been on the carpet before. It admits the wide spread between the price of wheat and a loaf of bread, a steer and a steak.

But this time, as in the past, industry spokesmen are likely to stress the rising costs all along the way to the store from the farm or ranch.

They will point to higher transportation charges from the farm to the food processing plants, and from the mills and packing houses to the supermarkets and corner groceries. The industry also will say it pays more for rent and labor all along the route. And it could add that the customer—or competition — keeps demanding more expensive processing and packaging and precooking or freezing.

The food industry is sure to emphasize that its margin of profits on sales is less than for most other industries and leaves little room for price slashing.

Figures on the relation of profits to sales in 1963 as compiled by the First National City Bank of New York show that for 2,280 manufacturing companies the average was 5.7 per cent. But 28 meat packing firms averaged only 0.7 per cent, 18 baking companies 3 per cent, 11 dairy products firms 2.7 per cent, and 92 other food products processors 4.2 per cent.

The bank's breakdown on profit margins in 1963 shows 59 food chain companies averaging 1.2 per cent net income on sales volume.

But both housewife and cattleman will be interested in Department of Agriculture figures showing that between 1947 and 1964 the prices the farmer got for his beef cattle went down 13.8 per cent while the housewife was seeing beef prices in the stores rise 26 per cent.

AN INTERESTING sidelight on the ethics of the prize ring turns up in a reminiscence of Kid McCoy, a popular champion of his day. McCoy was matched one night with a dangerous contender who happened to be stone deaf. McCoy only became aware of his opponent's affliction near the end of the third round—but then he acted promptly and without hesitation. He stepped back a pace and indicated in pantomime that the bell had sounded, marking the end of the round. Actually, it had not. "Thanks," muttered the deaf opponent, and dropped his hands—whereupon Kid McCoy immediately knocked him out.

Noting that an elderly lady was trembling and hesitating about crossing at a busy intersection, a kindly passer-by asked, "Have you vertigo, madam?" She replied, "Yes, a mile."

And a Swedish girl, applying at the University of Minnesota, was asked by the registrar, "Have you a hobby?" "No," answered the girl, "Ay ban single."

Speaking of YOUR HEALTH...

By LESTER L. COLEMAN, M.D.

Is it safe to use an anti-allergy (anti-histamine) drug for an indefinite period?

All drugs must be used only under medical supervision. Any anti-allergy drug should be taken during the period of greatest discomfort, and should be discontinued when the need is no longer present. However, there may be special circumstances when your physician may prolong its use, under his direction.

What is the best way to find a doctor when you are in a strange city?

If you know no one in a new community, the safest way would be to call the Medical Society in that city. If there is no branch of this society or state society in that locality, the director of a hospital will invariably help you find a doctor who will fulfill your particular need.

Can epilepsy be cured? Epilepsy is a disease that can now be frequently controlled, like tuberculosis or diabetes.

New drugs are remarkably effective in diminishing the frequency and severity of certain types of epilepsy.

Many people who have epilepsy are now able to take their rightful, dignified places in society, not only because of the help they are getting from these drugs, but because the old shame and stigma of this illness have been removed by the intelligent understanding of the condition.

Is antabuse a cure for alcoholism?

Antabuse is a drug which inhibits the desire for alcohol in any form, because the combination of antabuse and alcohol makes the alcoholic violently sick.

Fearful of this reaction, the alcoholic avoids drinking. But antabuse is not a cure for alcoholism. It may be used as a temporary method until other active techniques are employed for the control and cure of the disease of alcoholism.

Can enlarged adenoids cause deafness in children?

Enlarged adenoids often block the eustachian tube, which runs from the back of the nose to the ear. This blockage can create a temporary deafness by interfering with the normal functions of the ear drum.

Hearing is usually restored when the mass of adenoid tissue is removed.

Lots of Yanks Wear Glasses

By Hal Boyle

NEW YORK (AP)—Things a columnist might never know if he didn't open his mail:

More than half the persons over the age of 6 in the United States now wear glasses.

In the Vatican, library restorers inject and spray old tomes with vitamin preparations to reinvigorate the aging parchment.

The nation's annual water bill is in the neighborhood of $6 billion, because we use more of it than we do of any other material—over five million pounds per person per year.

Asthma, which afflicts 4 1/2 million Americans, comes from an ancient Greek word meaning "panting." If you are susceptible, you can get the disease from going on a hayride, petting a rabbit, or as the result of an emotional upset.

The Anti-Superstition Club is a Chicago group which meets every Friday the 13th in Room 1313 of the Hotel Blackstone at 13 minutes after 7 in the evening. Dinner is announced by the breaking of a mirror, and 13 members are seated at each table.

Our quotable notables: "There is the same difference between talent and genius that there is between a stonemason and a sculptor"—R. G. Ingersoll.

America has a passenger car for every three persons. In the Soviet Union there is an auto for every 364 people, and in Communist China one for every 19,893.

Folklore: If you trim your fingernails on Sunday morning, you'll do something you're ashamed of before the week is over. If a child has front teeth wide apart, that's a sign he'll be a wanderer. If you pull out a gray hair, 10 or 12 will grow in its place.

Quickies: A heaver can gnaw through a tree five inches thick in three minutes. Fish with forked tails are the fastest swimmers. Nine out of 10 kids would rather be disciplined by their Dads than their Moms. There are more rats than people in America.

It was Josh Billings who observed, "As scarce as truth is, the supply has always been in excess of the demand."

THE Twenty-Third PSALM

You've got to have your arms around a warm, woolly, wobbly lamb before the real meaning of the Twenty-third Psalm grips you.

You begin to realize how awkward, bewildered, helpless a lamb really is.

David wasn't merely singing of the Lord's faithfulness. He was confessing his own helplessness!

The key to religious faith is not simply the discovery of God's power. It is the discovery of our own need.

The Lord is OUR Shepherd.

- 1 The Lord is my shepherd, I shall not want;

2 he makes me lie down in green pastures. He leads me beside still waters;

3 he restores my soul. He leads me in paths of righteousness for his name's sake.

4 Even though I walk through the valley of the shadow of death, I fear no evil;
- 5 Thou preparest a table before me in the presence of my enemies; thou anointest my head with oil, my cup overflows.

6 Surely goodness and mercy shall follow me all the days of my life; and I shall dwell in the house of the Lord for ever.

The following are the words of Baha'u'llah, spoken to Prof. Edward G. Brown of the University of Cambridge: "We desire but the good of the world and the happiness of the nations, that all nations should become one in faith and all men as brothers; that the bonds of affection and unity between the sons of men should be strengthened, that diversity of religion should cease, and differences of race be annulled. "These fruitless strifes, these ruinous wars shall pass away, and the most great peace shall come. Do you not need this? Is not this that which Christ foretold? Yet do we see our kings and rulers lavishing their treasures more freely on means for the destruction of the human race than on that which would lead to the happiness of mankind.

"These strifes and bloodshed and discord must cease, and all men be as one kin and one family. Let not a man glory in that he loves his country; let him rather glory in that he loves his kind."

This is God's Universe

THREE OLD TESTAMENT DECLARATIONS CONCERNING GOD AS THE CREATOR OF THE UNIVERSE

Scripture—Job 38:1-11; Isaiah 40:12-26; 42:1-12.

By R. H. RAMSEY

THE OPENING chapter of the Bible reads like a super-condensed Outline of History. The verses account for the beginnings of all things we see: the sun, moon and stars, light, land, water, animals and men, without lengthy "hows and whys" of the origins of each. The ancient writer says simply, God made them and it was very good.

In this one statement he assumes the existence of God, an eternal, omnipotent, infinitely intelligent Supreme Being capable of creating an order of matter and mind that was perfect in every way, each part functioning according to a divine plan.

Not until Genesis 1:26 do we find a reference to man. And for the first time in the account of the creation, we find the use of a plural pronoun and a plural possessive: "Let us make man man. Then he breaks forth in an acclamation of blessing and praising Jehovah: the earth is so full of the Lord's riches! How wise God is to have made so many of them! As God should find pleasure in His dumb creatures, so His reasoning creatures should find their joy in Him!

In Job 38:1-11, we find Jehovah questioning Job, taking him back to the time of creation so he might fully understand his own insignificance in the light of God's vastness. And Job is reminded of the brevity of his own life in comparison to the great antiquity of time.

The prophet Isaiah takes the reader back to the work of creation again in chapter 40:12-26. He emphasizes the vastness of the heavens, the tremendous weight of the mountains and the infinite wisdom shown in all of Nature. Who could have in our image, after our likeness," indicating that God took counsel with at least one other in this supreme and final work of creation. Who? Certainly not the angels who were incapable of creation. It had to be the other two beings of the Godhead, the Son and the Holy Ghost, the only others, outside of God, Himself, having the powers of creation.

In the 104th Psalm, we have a poet's rendition of the story of creation. We will skip verses 2-9, covering the creation of light and the separation of the light from the waters above it, and consider the creative work of the third day. The Psalmist's view of Nature—in ascribing all its processes directly to God—is characteristic. Equally characteristic is the absence of any expression of a sense of beauty. He thinks only of Nature's usefulness to man. Where there is water, there are life, vegetation and animals for the benefit of counseled God in all of this? Certainly not man, for, even after thousands of years, he has not even begun to comprehend the mysteries of God's creation. Nor does he understand that, vast as it is, the earth is no more than a pinpoint in the great universe surrounding it.

Then the prophet warns against likening God to any man-made image. For if men will only recognize their own smallness and powerlessness in the light of God's omnipotence, they cannot fail to see that just as God created His marvelous universe, from nothing, so also can He reduce it.

In Isaiah 42:1-12, we find God's own declarations concerning "His Servant," who, of course, is none other than the Lord Jesus Christ. The two-fold mission of His Servant would be to fulfill the covenant promises to the people of Israel and to bring the light of revelation to the Gentiles.

Historic Roundhouse Is Destroyed by Fire

NORWALK, Ohio (AP)—Firemen were searching for the cause of a blaze that destroyed the former New York Central Railroad roundhouse, a 100-year-old landmark. The fire broke out Thursday on the second floor of the two-story structure that was used as a warehouse by a candy firm and tire company.

New Mexico University Offers Religion Degrees

PORTALES, N.M. (AP)—Quietly, and with little publicity, Eastern New Mexico University is pioneering in a field normally reserved for religious colleges or seminaries.

The Portales institution produces a dozen or more ministers each year, complete with degrees.

Buildings, religious instructors materials and expenses are underwritten by the participating religious groups.

The university accredits the courses offered.

Members of small churches in Eastern New Mexico and West Texas are acutely aware of the program. Many of the country congregations depend on ministerial students to fill their pulpits each Sunday.

At this time of year at least two of the three chairs of religion at ENMU are swamped with requests for graduates to fill pulpits throughout the Southwest.

The Church of Christ Bible Chair has the largest program with two fulltime staff members and curriculum which leads to a master's degree in religion.

Dr. Steven Eckstein, dean of the Bible Chair directors after 11 years here, said the chair has sixteen ministerial students this year.

"This is the best year we've had," Dr. Eckstein said.

Since the Church of Christ chair was begun in 1947, 75 to 100 preachers have been turned out of ENMU with religion and related majors.

"Our people are all over the world and have certainly demonstrated their ability to fit in," Dr. Eckstein said. "We have more requests than we can fill when our men get their degrees."

How does the ENMU student of religion compare with the ministers turned out by Church of Christ colleges?

The Rev. Robert Clarke, director of the Baptist Student Union, prepares more men for the theological seminaries than he sends directly into the preaching fields. Many of his religion majors are already full-time ministers, however, and commute to Portales three or more days a week from points as far distant as 100 miles.

The Baptist chair turns out an average of five ministers a year. The situation at the Methodist Church's Wesley Foundation is quite different.

The Rev. Milton Chester, completing his first year here, said the difference is due to the preferences of Methodist seminaries. "Our seminaries do not want religious majors, they want liberal arts students," he said.

For this reason the Methodist chair turns out no religious majors although it is a center for future seminary students who are working on their preliminary liberal arts degrees.

Farmers in 3 Counties Dump Batch of Milk

BELLAIRE, Ohio (AP)—Several thousand gallons of milk were dumped Thursday by about 40 farmers in Belmont, Jefferson and Harrison counties because dairy companies in the area refused to buy the milk.

The farmers quit the Dairy-men's Cooperative Sales Association earlier this week, complaining dues were too high. The dairies said they could not pick up the milk without violating contracts with the association.

Through Finland's population numbers only 4,500,000 people, they support 225 newspapers.

Catholics Eye New Liturgy

Use of English Is Recommended

WASHINGTON (AP)—American prelates of the Roman Catholic Church have drawn up detailed recommendations for greater use of English in Masses. Prompt approval from Rome is expected.

About 200 archbishops and bishops and four of the five American cardinals met Thursday in a secret session at Catholic University to approve the texts and the extent of English in the Mass, sacraments and the breviary.

Final approval of the new translations was requested of the Ecumenical Council's commission for the liturgy. "When this is forthcoming," said the Most Rev. John F. Dearden, archbishop of Detroit, "they will be put into effect in the United States as soon as possible."

Archbishop Dearden is chairman of the U.S. Bishops' Commission on Liturgy which decided on the recommendations last Jan. 8 at a meeting in Philadelphia.

The impetus for greater use of the vernacular—and consequently less use of Latin—came last Dec. 4 from the liturgical reform constitution adopted by the Vatican Ecumenical Council.

Although the recommendations approved Thursday are a secret, authoritative sources report the vernacular will not apply to the "Canon," the most sacred portion of the Mass.

The speculation is that the most likely date for the revised texts to be inaugurated is the first Sunday in Advent, Nov. 29, which is the beginning of the liturgical year.

Francis Cardinal Spellman of New York, James Cardinal Ritter of St. Louis, James Francis Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles and Albert Cardinal Meyer of Chicago attended the meeting.

Richard Cardinal Cushing of Boston was absent.

Political Role Still Ahead For Glenn

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Lt. Col. John H. Glenn's withdrawal from the Democratic U. S. Senatorial race will not end his participation in Ohio politics completely, it appeared today. Glenn is one of two candidates for election as delegate to the Democratic National Convention in the 15th Congressional District embracing his home town of New Concord.

Because two delegates will be elected in the district, Glenn is virtually certain of election for lack of opposition.

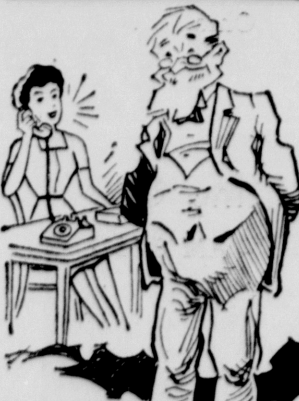

Democratic State Headquarters said his name could not be removed from the ballot as a candidate for delegate any more than it could be as a candidate for senator.

A headquarters spokesman said in event Glenn withdraws formally after election as a delegate, his place automatically would be filled by the alternate receiving the largest vote in the district.

The other regular candidate for delegate in the district is Thelma Elwood of Cambridge. Candidates for alternate are Mary L. Biehl of Marietta and John W. Taylor of New Lexington.

SHADES OF THE 1890's — Shoppers at Kroger's this week looked twice on entering the store. Checkout counter employees were garbed in dress of another era. Outfits reminiscent of the 1890's were in evidence, complete with derbies for the men and gingham for the women. It's all part of the store's "old fashioned day" sales that are in progress this week.

Drunken Robins Heading North

LAUREL, Miss. (AP)—If you see a drunken robin reeling around in your yard these spring days, please take it into your house until it sobers up and can resume its flight northward.

It is likely intoxicated with the fermented juice around seeds from the chinaberry tree. The seeds are encased with pulpy covering and it is this that ferments and causes enough alcohol to put red robin on a jag.

When the robin gets enough to start reeling it loses wing power and is a likely prey for natural enemies—cats and dogs.

In defense of the drunken robin it should be told that for most of the year it feeds soberly on seeds from dogwood, choke berries, juniper berries and small fruits.

But when time comes for the spring trip from south to north, about all that is left is the chinaberry. Spring rains have soaked the berries. The warm sun has fermented them.

Some bird watchers are of the opinion the robin is not naturally inclined toward drunkenness. It's just that the alcohol-soaked chinaberries are the only food it can find.

The chinaberry tree is a native of the Southern states and Mexico. In its wild state, it seldom grows north of the southernmost Tennessee line. That is why most bird lovers in the North have never seen a drunken robin. The chinaberry is cultivated in a lot of Southern yards as an ornamental tree and because of its heavy shade.

So, kind sir, if you will, please pick up the robin after its yearly binge and let it sober up until it is able to fly north.

It should be protected because it has the strongest personality of all birddom, despite its spring toddy.

John Burroughs, the naturalist, described it as the "most native and democratic" of all birds in the United States. The robin's song is pleasant and highly varied.

In the North, in the summer-time, it is seen singly, or near its mate, hunting for the early worm. But in the winter it travels to the Gulf Coast where it lives with big, friendly flocks in the piney woods.

Toledo U Opened to All Speakers

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Senate Majority Leader C. Stanley Mechem, R-Athens, called today on a legislative study committee to solve the problem of extended services in public schools.

"This extended service question is so important we should try to settle it in this committee," he told member legislators.

Mechem referred to special classes and summer programs available to schools under existing provisions of the foundation program used to determine education subsidies.

Finance Director Richard Krabach has blamed what he called "open end" extended service provisions of the foundation program for a substantial portion of a possible $5-million deficit in public school appropriations this year.

Mechem's committee is slated to prepare recommendations for the next legislature on education matters.

India Smiles at 'Mysterious Letter'

NEW DELHI, India (AP) — India's capital, often beset by worries over famine and rioting, was able to smile this week at "the case of the mysterious letter."

This thriller has ingredients to make an imaginative mystery writer envious: British intelligence, unknown hands secretly searching the dusty national archives, a revolutionary flying home from Moscow in the night.

To top it off, the still-awaited ending to the thriller is almost certain to reduce either Soviet or Communist Chinese influence in Communist party doings in India.

The hero or heel, depending on your politics, was Shripad Amrit Dange, the pro-Soviet Communist party boss in India, vice-chairman of the Moscow-controlled World Federation of Trade Unions, and general secretary of the All-India Trades Union Congress.

He was in the spotlight because someone somehow searched through hundreds of thousands of letters and documents in the National Archives and found a letter supposedly written 40 years ago.

It was said to have been penned in a prison cell by a young Communist revolutionary jailed by India's then British rulers, on a charge of antistate activity.

The young man, frantic at the thought of four more years behind bars, pleaded with the British sabbits to release him. In return he said he would work for British intelligence as a secret agent inside the Indian revolutionary movement.

That young man, it was said this week, was none other than Shripad Amrit Dange.

Clearly, the pro-Chinese wing of Dange's own party was trying to do him in, trying to oust his pro-Moscow faction and take the party into Peking's fold.

His high-ranking comrades, known for their Chinese leanings were making speeches all over India about the letter, saying it was in Dange's handwriting and had been cross-indexed scores of times in the 40-year-old government records and obviously was not a forgery.

Prime Minister Nehru's government opened the archives long enough for interested parties to see the letter — one Communist official said he looked at it for three days — and then closed the file.

No one in fact was insisting very loudly that the letter was a forgery.

But who, originally found it? Who had access to these forgotten government files in order to give Dange's enemies their ammunition?

The right-wing Bombay newspaper, Current, was one of the first to publish the letter. Where did Current get it?

Nobody was answering any of these questions but there was speculation aplenty.

Dange was in Moscow when the storm broke. He flew home and declared he was enjoying the whole affair because it gave him a good chance to challenge party dissidents.

His mood changed the next day when he received telegrams from party cells throughout India and his own Trades Union Congress. All demanded that he resign.

The party secretariat talked with Dange for two hours behind closed doors and reportedly told him he should lie low until April 9 when the party's national council and national executive will meet to investigate the charge.

There, for the moment, "The Case of the Mysterious Letter" was suspended.

Editor of the Week — Jerry Smallwood

Editor of the Week

By ZUELLA COLEMAN

This week's editor is Jerry Smallwood, son of Mrs. Margaret Smallwood of Route 3. He is a senior at C.H.S., and is taking the general course. He is active in the Hi-Y, likes chess, art, hiking, swimming and all sports. Jerry attends the Calvary Evangelical United Brethren Church.

After graduation, Jerry plans to enroll in an art school. He now holds the rank of Life Scout, and has been in Boy Scouts of America for eight years.

Students Give Definition Of a Teacher

Compiled by CATHY MCCOLLISTER and ZUELLA COLEMAN

Roger Eitel, senior — "A teacher is one who understands. A teacher tries with all his heart and soul to help students improve themselves. A teacher does not teach just to make money; he teaches because he is dedicated to the profession of human betterment. A teacher has problems, whether it is students or administration. But most of all teachers have rewards, the satisfaction that they themselves have had some part in molding an individual's personality."

Dave Thomas, senior — "A teacher can be compared to a policeman. When a student doesn't do his homework, his crime is first reported by the teacher. Like a policeman, the teacher must be on the lookout for wrongdoing. Even though teachers don't use patrol cars, they are able to detect misbehavior from their desks. No whistle is used, but most teachers possess a well-developed larynx. Most of them leave their guns at home, but a phone call to a parent accomplishes the same purpose. With the principal as their chief, the teachers of today are comparable to a well-organized police force."

Sherry Franklin, senior — "To many of the students, a teacher is around just to boss and get mad at them. If these students would just understand that a teacher is a person who wants the best of them, to give them an education, and to teach them to be decent and respectable human beings. If some of these students would analyze themselves in a true light they would find out why a particular teacher gets mad. The teacher is only doing his job and students should have respect for them."

Nancy Grant, junior — "A teacher is a person who has to put up with the student which sits in the back of the room, pays little or no attention, and then complains when he fails. He is the person who has gone to college for at least four years because he wants to help the younger generations, and then finds that he can only help the ones which are willing. He is the one which has to be nice and fair to all, even the ones he can't stand. A teacher is the person a student can always turn to for help of any kind, for a teacher is always ready and willing to help."

Terry Campbell, junior — "A teacher isn't really 'just' a teacher. To teach a class of 30 or more and get through it without a mental relapse is quite a task. A teacher not only has to know what he is supposed to be teaching and understand it completely, but he must also understand every student and his problems in the course. Some teachers won't give a student a break if they get off to a poor start or have a misunderstanding between them. This teacher is usually the one that ends up getting the hard time, because any teacher that doesn't give any breaks won't receive any."

George Grigg Is Student Director

George Grigg is the student director for the senior class production of "The Spiral Staircase".

Due to a misunderstanding, Linda Benzenberg was listed as student director in Wednesday's edition of The Herald. Linda is a member of the play cast.

Golf Team Has Practiced For 2 Weeks

By DAVE THOMAS

The C.H.S. golf team, led by captain Bruce Helwagen, has been practicing regularly for two weeks.

In addition to playing golf every school day at the Pickaway Country Club, the team has been using its practice "cage". This new device was put into use this year and is located in the gym. It looks somewhat like a large canvas box, and the boys hit practice balls into the one open end. On days when the weather prevents outdoor practice, the team watches movies of professional golfers in tournament play.

The team's first match was scheduled last Monday morning with Washington C. H., and the second for that afternoon against Hillsboro. However, bad weather forced postponement of both matches. The next meet will be a quadrangular match on Saturday, at the Pickaway Country Club, with Pleasant View, and Wilmington.

Senior Office Girls Receive Recognition

By CAROLYN CHAFFIN

The Journalism Class this week pays special recognition to the senior girls on Mr. Snouffer's office staff. They are Sharon Moore, Susan Warner and Ginger Young.

These girls were recommended to Mr. Snouffer by their typing teachers in their sophomore year. During the last six weeks of that year they were trained for and instructed in their duties and responsibilities.

Work for them starts two weeks before and lasts two weeks after the regular school year, and they stay each day until 4 p. m. Sharon, Susan and Ginger have all worked their junior and senior years and have received one credit each year.

Sharon Moore, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Moore, 310 Sunset Drive, works in the office on the average of four periods each day. She is a member of Senior S.O.S., Drama Club, bowling league, intramurals and is a volunteer. Her hobbies include bowling, swimming, and reading. She plans to attend Ohio University and study education.

Susan Warner, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Jerome Warner, 482 E. Franklin St., keeps busy in the office on an average of three periods each day. Senior S.O.S., E.M.S., Senior G.A.A. and bowling league are among the clubs and activities she participates in. She plans to study interior decoration at Ohio State.

Ginger Young, daughter of Mack C. Young, 545 N. Pickaway St. works in the office three periods every day. Activities and clubs she participates in are Senior S.O.S., Drama Club, Annual Staff, and Basketball intramurals. Her hobbies are bowling, tennis, swimming, and collecting stuffed animals. Ginger has made plans to attend the Patricia Stevens Career College.

Respect Property of Others

By JERRY SMALLWOOD

Where's the cure for "Disrespectful propertyitis"? Do you treat your fellow students' books with the proper respect? Are you responsible for the markings that appear on the walls and desks at CHS? Do you know someone who is responsible for silverware being removed from the cafeteria? Do big "64s," "65s," or "66s," credit their being on trees, walls or windows to you?

You won't find a cure for this catching disease in pills or other medicines. The cure is found in students themselves.

The faculty can set down strict punishment for offenders, but still one rotten apple can spoil the whole basket.

So students sit up and take notice! Stop your fellow students from catching this disease. You have the cure so start using it. You can rid Circleville High School of disrespectful propertyitis.

'Staircase' Opening Set Tonight

By ANITA HENDRICKSON AND PAT QUINCEL

Setting for "The Spiral Staircase" consists of two units, a bedroom and hallway. It is filled with lightning, thunder and rain. The costumes were borrowed from Footlights Costumes in Columbus and will be used in tonight's and tomorrow night's performances.

Lighting will be done by Doyle Painter; sound by Dick Lamb and Larry Lane. Student director, George Grigg, is coordinating all technical aspects of the play.

Mr. Ransom feels that the play is an "experiment." There has not been anything like this on the high school stage in the past six years. The cast consists of: Ginger Young as Mrs. Oates, an Irish maid, complete with dialect; Paul Smith as the constable, overbearing cop, outstanding characterization; Larry Plum as Prof. Warren, a 68-year-old, strict in his beliefs, Sheryl Wood as Helen, a young girl who cannot speak; Larry Eccard as Dr. Perry, a young doctor, the romantic lead; Pam Speakman as Nurse Barker, attractive, questionable character; Dave Thomas as Stephen Rice, an assistant to Prof. Warren; Linda Benzenberg as Mrs. Warren, invalid, sees apparitions.

The cast shows a great deal of interest in this play and its opportunities for characterization.

The tickets are on reserve, and will also be sold at the door. It will be an evening of entertainment, that can be enjoyed by the whole family. Everyone is invited to attend.

Grade School News Report

S. COURT STREET

Seventh Grade — Just recently in the DAR sponsored essay contest, Wendy Bray, Cynthia Brackett and Marion Brehmer were first, second and third place winners respectively among all seventh grade Pickaway County students.

Honorable mention in statewide competition was received by Cynthia Brackett whose subject was "Deborah Sampson". Deborah Sampson was Cynthia's seventh grade — grandmother. She fought in the American Revolution disguised as a soldier.

Mr. Leatherwood's science classes welcomed the spring weather by taking short field trips. Many stones containing fossils were found, plus tree fungus and wild flowers. The field trips were a success, not only for its main purpose of educational value, but it also gave the students an opportunity to get some exercise and fresh air.

Patty Painter will represent Circleville City Schools in the Citizen-Journal Spelling Bee to be held in the Ohio Union on the OSU campus May 9. If Patty should be ill and could not attend, her alternate, Sandra Jeffries, will go in her place.

The third grade has a model of an Indian village in their room. This was correlated with their geography lesson on "Rusty Buys a Pair of Moccasins".

The third graders are also showing signs of spring, exemplified by their bulletin board portraying this yawning season.

Metal Shop Students Gain Much Experience

By CATHY MCCOLLISTER

At C.H.S. the students of the metals department are fortunate because they have a unique opportunity of wide industrial experience. They are challenged with problems which differ from the academic. Mr. Stanley Spring is in charge of the department.

Solving problems is often more fun than work and the students find the work pleasing because they are able to create useful objects. The students' interest in metals is illustrated best by the time they volunteer to working after school hours.

The boys make castings, electrical projects, jack stands and many other topics which are essential to learning to operate a lathe, a surface grinder, a milling machine, a welder, or other power tools, the students learn how steel is made, what industry expects of them in personnel relations, the importance of machine lubrication and maintenance, how to plan, and many other topics which are essential to the present industrial civilization.

Metals is more than a requirement, but a vitally interesting course. It fills a real need in giving the boys satisfaction, confidence, and a real reward for work with tools. Today's shop students are learning far more than those of the past and it is apparent that the lessons are valuable to the boys regardless of their vocational objectives.

Garden Court Apartments Still Hollywood Landmark

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — This is Hollywood Boulevard — Passersby in the gentle spring rain hurried along without a glance toward the stately white building that sits back from the street a block from Grauman's Chinese Theater. That was not unusual, for the Garden Court apartments have long been overlooked in modern Hollywood.

But it was a landmark when it opened on Christmas night of 1919.

"I remember that night," says the present owner, Erwin Karz. "I was just a kid then, but I had my own stripped-down model T Ford. When I saw the Klieg lights in the sky, I hurried over to see the excitement."

"It was quite a sight. All the stars were going inside, and the champagne was flowing, even though prohibition had started. The parties went on every night until after New Year's."

The 40-year-old glories can still be seen, though sometimes dimly. The facade of the garden court is classical, with scrollwork, Corinthian columns and 24 half-naked Adonises who appear to be supporting the top three of the five stories.

The lobby is filled with oriental rugs, overstuffed furniture and handsome mahogany tables and is usually peopled by long-time tenants. One of them is Stella Turk, whose son wrote "I'll Get By," "Mean to Me" and other songs.

"This is a lovely, homey place," said Mrs. Turk, who has lived in the same apartment 24 years. "Anybody who leaves always comes back."

Mae Murray is now a tenant, as she has been off and on since the Garden Court opened. Una Merkel and Sidney Blackmer always stay there when they're in town. Anita Stewart had an apartment for 32 years.

The Garden Court fell into disrepair during a succession of owners. Most of its grand furnishings were lost or looted, including the grand pianos which were in each of the 72 apartments. The new owner is in the process of restoring its former elegance. He has resisted offers to tear it down.

Probe Asked On Extended School Aid

TOLEDO, Ohio (AP) — Faculty members at the University of Toledo have given their support to President William S. Carlson's recent stand that university facilities can be used for outside speakers regardless of how "repulsive their views may be to us."

Dr. Ernest W. Gray, professor of English, said 206 members of the faculty have signed a statement supporting Dr. Carlson. He said the statement was circulated after there was some criticism of the announced policy.

In his statement about four weeks ago, Dr. Carlson said "meeting rooms and other campus facilities are available, as far as their primary educational use permits, on a nondiscriminatory basis to student organizations recognized by the Student Senate and the Student Activities Committee."

He added that the school always makes it clear that the appearance of a speaker does not necessarily imply approval of his views either by the student organization or by the administration.

Parole Violator Back In Chillicothe Cell

CHICAGO (AP) — The FBI has arrested Ray Marvin Justus, 26, a parole violator, and is returning him to the federal reformatory at Chillicothe, Ohio, to finish serving a six-year sentence for theft. Justus was sentenced in Tennessee in July 1960 for stealing seven pistols from the ROTC Armory in Chattanooga. His hometown was not listed.

The World Today

By James Marlow

WASHINGTON (AP) — President Johnson has used unusual language in sending fast greetings to Brazil's new president, Paschoal Ranieri Mazzilli.

In his message Johnson expressed admiration for the way Brazilians settled their difficulties "within the framework of constitutional democracy and without civil strife."

Yet, the new president's ascension to office was the result of a military coup—not a constitutional process—in which the army threw out the elected president, Joao Goulart, who then fled the country.

It was after the army got rid of Goulart that the Brazilian Congress named Mazzilli, president of the Chamber of Deputies, the new president.

The process of choosing Mazzilli could be considered constitutional since the constitution provides when there is no president or vice president the Congress will choose the chief executive.

Favorable American reaction had been expected since last Monday night when a high U.S. State Department official said there was increasing danger of a Communist takeover in Brazil.

The Brazilian army went into action Tuesday night. The Associated Press in stories from Brazil has bluntly called Goulart's regime a left-leaning, Communist-influenced government. The Johnson administration wants no more Communist takeovers in the Americas.

And Goulart had let Communists move into high positions. Last month U.S. diplomats stationed in Latin America were called here for a three-day strategy session on Johnson administration policies in the hemisphere.

After the meeting one source told this story of what happened:

Among other issues the diplomats discussed how far the United States should go in opposing certain dictatorships and military governments.

Some of the diplomats expressed belief the United States should modify its policy of disapproving some of the military and other strongly conservative governments in Latin America.

(Under President John F. Kennedy this government expressed displeasure with some undemocratic regimes by calling its diplomats home and by cutting off economic and military assistance.)

The visiting diplomats, the same unidentifiable source said, contended that U.S. pressure had little effect on the undemocratic regimes and that it would be better for Washington to keep contact with anyone in power and try to use its influence to alter conditions.

Whether the Johnson administration will recognize extreme reactionary regimes, even if they take over illegally, remains to be seen. The group in control now in Brazil is conservative.

It's a nation where 8 per cent of the landowners hold 75 per cent of the cultivated land although more than 60 per cent of its more than 75 million people gain a living—often sparse—from farming.

More than 60 plans for farm reforms have been made in the past 13 years but little has been done about them. Yet under Goulart in the past year inflation amounted to 81 per cent.

There has been crisis after crisis in the economy. Whether Mazzilli can do any better remains to be seen. But so long as the army and the wealthy conservatives stay together a coup by leftists is unlikely.

But how long revolution can be avoided — without wide reforms to give more people a better share of the living—is a question which will haunt any regime which tries to stand pat and ignore the problem.

Governor's Mother Tells Her Role in Racial Fuss

JACKSONVILLE, Fla. (AP) — Mrs. Malcolm Peabody says that she went to jail because she "would rather stand up for the Constitution of the United States than the ordinances of St. Augustine."

The 72-year-old mother of Massachusetts Gov. Endicott Peabody was brought here from her crowded jail cell to testify in behalf of federal court intervention in the civil rights dispute in the nation's oldest city.

"Why did you go to St. Augustine and why did you go to that motor lodge to be arrested?" she was asked by Tobias Simon, one of the three attorneys seeking to take nearly 300 jail prisoners out of the jurisdiction of city and country courts.

"All my life," Mrs. Peabody said, "I have been concerned with discrimination and injustice, and so have my husband and my children."

"Talking hasn't done any good. We heard of the demonstrations in St. Augustine and we decided that the Negroes needed help."

"This has been mostly the work of young people, but when I asked if someone of my age could be useful they told me yes, so I came."

When she went to the segregated motor lodge with a mixed white-Negro group to be arrested on a trespassing charge, Mrs. Peabody said she went with the feeling that "our friends were taking the brunt of this."

Asked under cross-examination if she had expected to be arrested, she replied: "I didn't suppose I could escape it."

Attorneys told the federal court they had been forcibly detained in a St. Augustine jail today, and that one was mistreated.

Tobias Simon told U.S. Dist. Judge Bryan Simpson this supported his contention that "a fair trial is not available in St. Augustine" to more than 200 demonstrators jammed into overcrowded jails.

Simon and attorneys John M. Pratt and William Kunstler had petitioned the federal court to intervene in the civil rights dispute in the nation's oldest city by placing the prisoners under federal jurisdiction.

Brazil Rebel Regime To Get U.S. Nod

WASHINGTON (AP) — The new revolutionary regime in Brazil appeared today to be assured of U.S. recognition and full political and economic cooperation — if and when it secures its hold on the country.

The Johnson administration, fearful of being accused of intervention, maintained strict silence on Brazilian developments for the time being.

There was no doubt at all, however, that the White House and the State Department were hoping for rebel success in completing the ouster of Brazilian President Joao Goulart.

An unmistakable indication of official Washington's attitude was given last Monday night when a high State Department official said there was increasing danger of a Communist takeover in South America's largest country.

A spokesman said "the situation in Brazil has steadily deteriorated" since last January.

New Highway Map Ordered

State Road Layout To Be Detailed

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio's first official highway map since 1962 will be larger and have seven or eight smaller maps on the back. It will be in four colors.

Several state agencies are working together on it and hope to have a half-million ready for distribution at the state and county fairs and elsewhere this summer.

Printing of the first 500,000 is expected to cost $50,000 or more. This compares with $30,000 for a half-million of the 1962 maps. Officials hope to let a printing contract before May 1.

The road map itself will be the same size as the last one, but the sheet on which it is printed will be widened to about 44 inches.

Major street outline maps for eight of the state's largest cities have been moved from the back to the front, and six others discarded.

The seven or eight smaller maps on the back will show location of agriculture, industry, historical sites, recreation spots, transportation outlets, water resources and educational facilities.

These will be reprinted—the number depending on advance demand—with additional state promotional material on the back, and used to answer requests about these subjects.

The back also will have color photographs of Ohio's major attractions. The present "Ohio in the Civil War" and "Ohio in the War of 1812" sections will be included in the historical sites map.

For the first time, state development officials are joining the Highway Department in planning the map. Agriculture, education and natural resources officials also had a hand.

Since the end of 1962, the state has been using up the last 350,000 - copy edition of the 1962 map. Gov. James A. Rhodes' name was printed over that of his predecessor, Michael V. DiSalle.

Utility Cable Experiment Is Studied

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Public Utilities Commissioners appear receptive to another experiment in cutting cost of burying unsightly power and telephone cables.

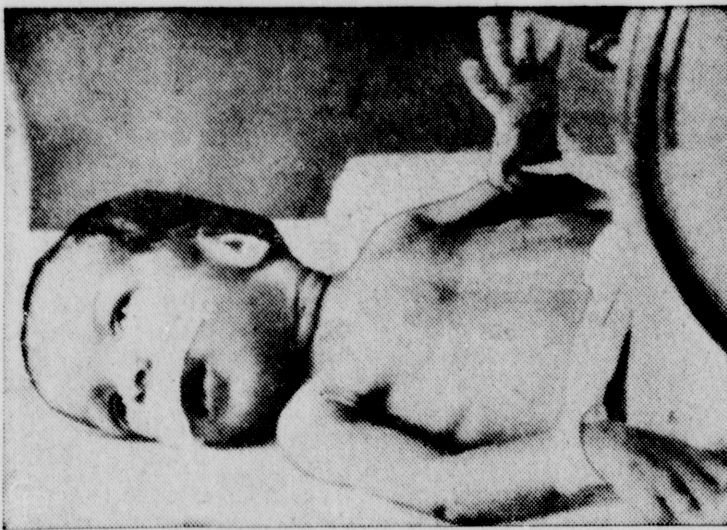

Since 1946, the three-member commission has insisted that buried communication and electric cables be separated by at least 12 inches of "well-tamped earth" or its equivalent.

Among considerations involved, engineers say, were fears that telephone crews might accidentally tape a high voltage cable, or that current might jump from a power cable to a telephone cable.

Ohio Bell Telephone Co. and Cleveland Electric Illuminating Co., however, said the underground cable has better insulation and identifying markings now. They are asking permission to jointly bury (without the separation) cable for 5,000 homes in the next four years.

There is a high initial cost in burying cable despite its popularity in new housing areas, they say, and the regulation requiring separation is a significant cost factor.

The language of the ancient Incas is more widely used than in their heyday four centuries ago. Quechua is the only language spoken by millions of present-day inhabitants of Peru, Bolivia and Ecuador. There are about 28 dialects.

FBI Agent Files Lawsuit for Injuries

NEW YORK (AP)—An FBI agent is suing for $750,000 damages for injuries suffered in a beating by members of a Brooklyn family that authorities say has connections with Cosa Nostra.

The agent, John P. Foley, 42, filed the suit Wednesday in U.S. District Court.

He was in a hospital for six weeks with a fractured skull and other injuries. His suit says some of the injuries are permanent.

Foley was beaten, kicked and clubbed April 3, 1963, outside Immaculate Heart of Mary Roman Catholic Church in Brooklyn while photographing persons attending funeral services for Carmello Lombardo.

The suit named as defendants four Lombardozzis and two relatives arrested in connection with the attack. Five of the men were sentenced to 20-month jail terms for assault. One Lombardozzi was acquitted.

Royals Coach Moans Team 'Lays Down'

Celtics Chalk
2nd Straight;
Lucas Ineffective

BOSTON (AP)—"We just laid down," said frustrated Cincinnati Coach Jack McMahon. "If we get this kind of performance, I don't expect we'll win again. The Celtics will sweep us in four."

McMahon held his post-mortem outside the wake-like Royals' dressing room Thursday night after Boston defeated his team 101-90 and took a commanding 2-0 lead in the Eastern Division playoff final.

The best-of-seven National Basketball Association series now moves to Cincinnati Sunday and Tuesday nights. No team in NBA playoff annals ever has been down 0-2 in a seven-game set and pulled it out.

St. Louis, which entered the Western Division final as the underdog, takes a one-game edge into Friday night's second contest at San Francisco.

"The Celtics were aggressive," McMahon said. "We wouldn't even go after a loose ball. I'm disgusted with this team. On switches when a Boston player got by, my boys would say 'oops,' shrug and then figure it wasn't their responsibility any more."

"Look, we're the highest-scoring team in the league and we've got 87 and 90 points in the playoffs. Are they tired? How the devil can they be tired?"

"I said Jerry Lucas was 30 per cent with that back condition. Heck, he's not even 10 per cent. He looks like he's afraid to bounce the ball. He must be in pain. He keeps telling me he can play, but he can't."

"Jack Twyman had a good shooting game with 27 points but he gave up that many on defense. Oscar Robertson got 30? He'll get that many if he just gets the ball."

"I think that K.C. Jones of the Celtics is your star. He hustled, he worked the ball in and gave Boston a great game."

"K.C. Jones was great, the whole show," echoed Lucas. "I never before played a game in my life when I didn't score at least one basket."

Lucas was held to three free throws and seven rebounds.

"They played a good ball game, we played a better one," commented Boston Coach Red Auerbach. "We certainly aren't overconfident by any stretch of the imagination."

Tommy Heinsohn got 31 points and Sam Jones 25 to pace Boston scoring.

Strickland To Follow Birdie's Way

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—George Strickland, elevated from coach to acting manager of the Cleveland Indians, says he thinks he can do the job the way Birdie Tebbetts would want.

"I've learned an awful lot of baseball from him and respect Birdie as, one of the greatest managers in the game today," Strickland said Thursday.

He took over the Indians' helm after Tebbetts, 54, had a heart attack late Wednesday night. Tebbetts reportedly will be hospitalized six weeks and how long it will be before he returns to the club is uncertain now.

After announcing that Strickland, 38, would handle the club, General Manager Gabe Paul said, "Birdie is still the manager of this ball club. Strickland will follow the policies and procedures of Birdie."

Strickland, a former Cleveland shortstop, is making a big move from third base coach. He has no managerial experience and only two seasons as a coach—one with the Minnesota Twins and last year with the Indians.

But Strickland is thoroughly familiar with Tebbetts' policies and with his philosophy of managing. He is highly respected for his knowledge of the game and is said to get along well with the players.

Strickland made an unsuccessful managerial debut Thursday. The Indians lost, 4-3, to the San Francisco Giants here. The Tribe plays the Giants again today in Nogales, Mexico.

"We're all going to have to work a little bit harder," said Strickland.

Reds Send Joey Jay Against Bums

VERO BEACH, Fla. (AP)—The Cincinnati Reds, with a victory under their belt, meet the world champion Los Angeles Dodgers today. Joey Jay was scheduled to pitch.

The Reds showed some sharp pitching and defense, timely hitting and a noticeable hustle in beating the Detroit Tigers, 8-3 Thursday. The victory stopped Cincinnati's five-game exhibition losing streak.

The sluggers were back in form. Vada Pinson homered in the fourth and Frank Robinson, playing first base again because of a sore arm, got two timely hits.

Sammy Ellis pitched seven innings and got the victory. After a little trouble in the first two innings, Ellis settled down and, with the exception of a home run pitch to Don Demeter in the fifth, had little trouble keeping the Tigers in line. Bill Henry hurled the last two innings.

The Reds got 10 hits, Detroit seven. Mickey Lolich was the loser.

When the Reds scored twice in the fifth, it marked the first time in more than a week they tallied more than one run in an inning.

Smith Underdog In Bout Tonight

MIAMI, Fla. (AP) — Jesse Smith, former ranking welterweight on the comeback trail, says the 2-1 odds against him in tonight's bout with title contender Luis Rodriguez are nothing to worry about.

"I never fought a guy I didn't think I could whip," said Smith, who was dropped from rankings after a seven-month layoff last year.

In 44 fights, Smith has knocked out 24 opponents in his 36 victories. Ring veterans remember the Philadelphia boxer as the one who rocked former heavyweight champion Sonny Liston with powerful left hooks during a 1959 training stint.

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—Birdie Tebbetts was reported "in satisfactory condition and doing well" early today, but doctors still wouldn't make any predictions as to when the Cleveland Indians manager would return to action.

The attending physician at St. Mary's Hospital, where Tebbetts was taken Wednesday night after a heart attack, said tests indicate there has been "some tissue damage." The doctor said no one can make positive statements about a coronary for four or five days.

Angry Joe Torre Rips Horsehide for Milwaukee

By THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
Milwaukee officials don't mind if Joe Torre remains angry with them the entire season. They wouldn't even mind trying the same tactics next season — if the final results this year are as profitable as the beginning.

For Torre, however, a repeat performance by the Braves' management wouldn't be profitable. That's what made him angry this year. He arrived at camp about three weeks late following a long contract hassle with President John McHale.

Now after only two weeks, the 23-year-old catcher-first baseman is batting .500. His two-run homer in the 11th inning powered the Braves to a 7-5 triumph over Pittsburgh Thursday, their 13th in 16 exhibition games. The winning blow was Torre's fourth hit of the day.

Torre, whose brother, Frank, also played for the Braves, accepted less money than he wanted after deciding "I wasn't going to let one man spoil my career." He referred to McHale.

The Brooklyn native reportedly signed for about $25,000. McHale said he had asked for a 100 per cent increase over his 1963 salary of $17,500.

In his third year with Milwaukee, Torre batted .293, the best average among catchers in the major leagues.

Houston's Jim Wynn also came through in an extra-inning effort, smashing a 12th-inning grand-slam home run which gave the Colts an 8-4 victory against the New York Mets. Wynn also had a two-run homer in the eighth that tied the game.

Six of the other seven exhibition contests were decided by one run. Only Cincinnati's 8-3 triumph over Detroit was not a close game.

St. Louis handed Sandy Koufax and the Los Angeles Dodgers a 2-1 setback while Minnesota rallied in the eighth for a

Kathy Whitworth Leads in Tourney

ST. PETERSBURG, Fla. (AP)—Kathy Whitworth, shooting an erratic but winning game, moved into the second round of the $10,000 St. Petersburg Women's Open Golf Tournament today with a one-stroke lead.

However, she was being pressed hard by the field of 37 professionals and 123 amateurs playing the 6,237-yard, par 36-35-71 Sunset Golf course.

Miss Whitworth, who was runner-up in total money won last year, carded five birdies and four bogeys in Thursday's one-under par 70 round.

Pushing the Jal, N.M., player were Patty Berg of Fort Myers, Fla.; Ruth Jessen of Seattle; Sandra Haynie of Phoenix, Ariz., and Betsy Rawls of Spartanburg, S.C. All carded 71s.

2-1 victory against the New York Yankees. Philadelphia nipped Kansas City in still another 2-1 game on John Herrstein's ninth-inning single.

Dick Dietz' single in the ninth carried San Francisco over Cleveland 4-3, three walks by rookie Wally Bunker in the ninth paved the way for the Chicago White Sox' 8-7 triumph against Baltimore and the Los Angeles Angels squeezed by the Chicago Cubs 6-5, giving Ken McBride his fourth decision.

Cage Talent Plentiful in Olympic Test

NEW YORK (AP)—The NCAA emerged as the team to beat and Villanova's flashy Wally Jones as one of the brightest stars after first-round action in the U.S. Olympic basketball trials.

"Oh, but what a pair they'd make," UCLA Coach John Wooden said today. "Just imagine Jones and (Walt) Hazzard in the same backcourt. They'd make somebody sit up and take notice."

Jones, a fancy playmaker with all the moves, piloted the Reds to a whopping 86-63 decision over the Armed Forces Missiles Thursday in a first-round game at St. John's University and delighted the crowd with his spectacular ball handling and passing.

In the other first-rounders, the AAU Stars upset the NCAA Blues 82-76; the NCAA Whites beat the Armed Forces Jets 74-64 and the NAIA All-Stars edged the AAU Stripes 77-74.

Actually, the team scores make but little difference since the Olympic Selection Committee will make its choices by individuals rather than by teams. In all, 94 players from throughout the country are competing for the 12 Olympic berths, plus six alternates.

Nicklaus Gets Snead Lesson

Slammer Is 3 Up In Greensboro

GREENSBORO, N.C. (AP)—Jack Nicklaus hadn't been born back in 1938 when Sam Snead won the inaugural Greater Greensboro Open Golf Tournament for the first of his seven victories in Greensboro.

Young Jack, now a powerful 24-year-old, had a good look at 51-year-old Sam Thursday as the PGA senior champion shot eight birdies and grabbed a three-stroke first - round lead with a superb seven-under-par 64.

Nicklaus was to get another good look at Sam today. They were paired together for the first two rounds of the 72-hole tournament.

Nicklaus, sharpening his game for next week's defense of the Masters championship, had this to say of the old master after he had posted a 70 to trail Sam by six shots:

"Sam is amazing. He has enough nerve to play shots the way they should be played. Some men at his age play what you might call 'skinny' golf. But he keeps hitting the ball close to the pin. He is amazing."

When Nicklaus won the Masters last spring, Snead was only two strokes off the pace in a third-place tie. He has won the classic three times, the last in 1954.

Although he has curtailed his tournament play sharply in recent years, the old slammer from the Virginia hills has been amazingly sharp in his few appearances.

He has taken away more than $27,000 from Greensboro, where his record includes seven victories and eight seconds or thirds.

His 64 Thursday was good for a $400 bonus check, awarded daily for the low round.

Sam had one three-putt green for his only bogey and had four birdies on each side of the 7,000-yard Sedgefield Country Club course, with par of 36-35.

Starting today's play, Australian Bill Dunk and George Bayer were in second place at 67, one shot in front of U.S. Open champion Julius Boros.

Six men shared fifth place at 69, among them British Open champ Bob Charles and Gene Littler.

Joining Nicklaus at 70 were six men, including Arnold Palmer. Still without a victory this year, Palmer started the first three holes three over par, then unleashed seven birdies.

Undeclared Russian Girl Cagers Snagged at Port

NEW YORK (AP)—If the officiating is anything like the customs inspection, the world champion Soviet girls basketball team might be heading for its first defeat on American soil.

The Russian girls fought their way through some pretty strenuous whistle blowing on their arrival for a five game series.

Among other things, the eagle-eyed New York customs officials:

Sat them down to make their forms out all over again.

Relieved the star center of three shriveled, yellow lemons, with a cry of triumph.

And threatened to take back a bouquet of flowers that the AAU had given to the team captain to welcome the Russian girls to America.

The team arrived Thursday and will fly to Kansas City today to get ready for the first game Monday at Joplin, Mo., against the Wayland Flying Queens of Texas.

The girls will play in Topeka, Kan., two games in Gallup, N.M., and in Plainview, Tex., before returning to New York and flying to Lima, Peru, where they will defend their world title.

They are not expected to have as much trouble cracking American basketball defense as they did the New York customs barrier.

For one thing, this is the third visit of a Russian girls basketball team to the States and they haven't lost a game yet. They won six straight in 1959 and eight straight on their last visit in 1962.

"We will try to play as a world champion team should play," said their coach, Stipapas Bautaus, who also coached the 1962 team.

Bautaus added he expected the Czechs, Bulgarians and the Americans to be the biggest threats to his defending champions at the Lima championships, which begin April 18.

He will get a line on the American team on April 11 at Gallup, when the two national squads meet.

The Russians are favored for another reason—they play international rules, which are the same for men and women. The American girls usually play one of three sets of special girls rules, all of which restrict the movement on the court.

But once every four years, the Americans must switch to the international rules for the world championships.

Another American problem is six-footer Skaidrite Smildzina, the high-scoring center of the Russian team, and Ravila Salimova, 6-7 reserve center.

Miss Smildzina is a pretty, big thing.

Miss Salimova, who has a sweet smile but looks something like Primo Carnera, towered over all the other girls, although the team averages 5-10 in height.

First National Schedules Customer Rewards Program

ANNIVERSARY PROGRAM — T. D. Harmon, executive vice president, and employee Ona Hurtt examine silverplate pieces that will be presented as part of the First National Bank's anniversary observance this month. The occasion marks the firm's first year in its new headquarters at Court and Main Sts. and the 101st year of operation in Circleville. The bank also operates a branch office in Williamsport.

In anticipation of the first anniversary of its new headquarters and 101st year of operation in Circleville, the First National Bank today announced the launching of a rewards program for present and new customers.

According to George P. Foresman, president, arrangements have been made to reward present and new customers throughout April with free appreciation gifts. The program applies to both savings and checking account customers.

E. G. Grigg Named to OSBA Panel

Edward G. Grigg, member of the Circleville Board of Education, has been appointed to the Personnel Guidelines Committee of the Ohio School Boards Assn.

The committee, composed of ten school board members from throughout the state, will study the relationships, policies and procedures involving board members, administrators and other school employees.

The committee will continue along the same lines as a similar committee last year which developed a suggested set of guidelines for school board-staff relationships and compiled a comprehensive study of merit pay plans for teachers in Ohio.

The 1964 Personnel Guidelines Committee will report its findings to the members of the association at the annual convention in Columbus this fall.

The Ohio School Boards Assn., a membership organization representing 73 per cent of all boards in the state, carries on a year-round program of information, research and inservice training activities for school officials. Its committees are instrumental in the investigation of problem areas and in carrying out projects mandated by the association membership.

From April 6 through Mar. 2, Foresman said, anyone opening a new savings account of $100 or more, or present depositors adding a like amount to an existing account, will receive their choice from a collection of silverplate pieces by Oneida.

Included in the selection are trays, compotes, Chippendale bon-bon dish, Chippendale compote, candy dish, server, butter dish, shell servers, candle sticks and a set of four, six inch silver plates.

Foresman said persons establishing new checking accounts in any amount will receive their choice of a five-piece setting of chalice pattern silverware or stainless.

This offer on silver service is limited to one free set per customer. Each month following the celebration, however, customers may obtain one additional place setting for a fractional part of the regular fee.

The First National Bank, established here in 1863, also serves Williamsport with a branch office in that community. The local firm is easily identified by its unique round structure at Court and Main Sts.
